FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

VANESSA WILLIAMS, BRAD GARRETT, JANE LYNCH and CHRISTOPHER LLOYD join FANTASTIC FILMS' DELHI SAFARI

LOS ANGELES, CA (April 12, 2011) – Los Angeles based, Fantastic Films International (FFI), headed by Roxane Barbat and Fred deWysocki, is proud to announce that Vanessa Williams, Brad Garrett, Jane Lynch and Christopher Lloyd have joined the cast of the stereoscopic 3D, animated feature DELHI SAFARI.

Vanessa Williams (“Desperate Housewives”) will voice Begum the Leopard mom, Brad Garrett (“Tangled”, “Finding Nemo”) will voice Bagga the Bear, Jane Lynch (“Glee”) will voice the Female Flamingo and Christopher Lloyd (“Back to the Future”) will voice Air India the Pigeon. They join Cary Elwes (“The Princess Bride”) who is voicing Sultan the Leopard dad as well as the Bee Commander and Jason Alexander (“Seinfeld”) who is voicing both the Male Flamingo and the Hyena Cook.

Fantastic Films International (FFI) is handling the exclusive distribution of the film worldwide. FFI’s Fred deWysocki, the producer for the English adaptation and voice-over, added, “Our fantastic cast is the final element for completing this wonderfully entertaining family film. This marvelous film has everything: fun characters, great Bollywood style music, top-notch animation and an engaging story with a “save the animals” message that has even garnered support from PETA. We are excited to be screening the film for buyers at Cannes in May in stereoscopic 3D.”

ABOUT DELHI SAFARI: The animals of a once protected reserve in India are being threatened by man’s development and destruction of their forest. The only way to save their home is to appeal to the humans in government. To do this, a leopard cub, his mom, a bear, and 3 monkeys set off on a safari to Delhi. But first, they must convince an obstinate talking parrot to leave his life of luxury in a gilded cage and join them on their trek as their spokesman. An exciting adventure ensues with the motley crew meeting many interesting characters along the way.

ABOUT FFI: Fantastic Films International executive produces and licenses quality independent films internationally. FFI is passionately committed to selecting, developing and promoting films that encompasses their “Fantastic” brand ensuring independent excellence.
