PRESS RELEASE

Fantastic Films International teams with “Mr. Fantastic” on AGENT CRUSH

(March 26, 2007) Fantastic Films International, LLC and Crush Productions, LTD are proud to announce the addition of Ioan Gruffudd (“Mr. Fantastic”) to the voice cast of AGENT CRUSH in the title role. He joins Neve Campbell, Brian Cox, Roger Moore and Brian Blessed.

Ioan said he is “privileged to have been asked to do this film.” After watching some of the early raw footage of the film, Ioan said “It’s amazing. This is a whole new format of animation, which is a combination of merging the latest technology with the traditional way of making movies. The result is incredibly unique and so cool.” The first time that Ioan was on set, he said “It was a bit disconcerting at first because the puppets are so real and so tangible and when you get up close to them they really look like little people. It’s extraordinary.” Ioan also went on to say “I think naturally this is a film that will appeal to children and teenagers but I think it will also appeal to the whole family because the script is so clever and witty and there are so many double entendres, so the kids will appreciate it on one level and (the adults) appreciate it on another...The sort of movies that appeal to the entire family are few and far between and this is one of them.”

AGENT CRUSH is currently filming in the UK and is an action-packed, special effects movie that is using state-of-the-art, microtronic characters and miniatures. Fred deWysocki, an executive producer for AGENT CRUSH states “We are creating a live-action environment in miniature that on film appears real and full scale. It will engage and captivate the audience with the humor, action and fantastic special effects.”

AGENT CRUSH synopsis:

In the not too distant future...

The World Security Network is developing cyborgs to combat crime.

The prototype, self-named Boris Goudphater (“Goodfarther”) was defective, but disfigured, survived the crusher.

Out for revenge, he plans a nuclear explosion using the magma flow at the earth’s core and array of machines and hardware to destroy the world.

Agent Crush is the second Cyborg, and now a secret agent furnished with superhero gadgets. Partnered with his creator, Spanners, their mission is to stop Goudphater.

However, Crush is also somewhat defective. His bumbling shortcomings sometimes result in more destruction than what the criminals had in mind!

The finale is a spectacular flying car chase though NY streets and underground lava caverns.

Can Agent Crush prove that he is the man for the job and save the Earth in time?
